Many times, she thought of committing suicide but made her mind not to commit suicide and live in this world gracefully, despite of transgender status. She also discussed about various problems faced while studying law. Supreme Court upheld the rights of transgenders to decide their gender and directed the Centre and State Governments to grant legal recognition to their gender identity. REPORT OF POLICE STATION VISIT

The visit to the police station was conducted on 20th April 2024 at Naupada police station, Thane. The visit was co-ordinated by Asst. Professor Pragati Suryawanshi. Students of FYBA LLB visited the police station. The visit aimed to give law students a practical understanding of how police stations function. DCP Ganesh Gawade Zone 1, ACP Sonali Dhole Sr. PI. Sanjay Dhumal were present during the visit. They guided the students on various topics. The visit was designed to complement their theoretical knowledge by enabling direct interaction with police personnel, observing law enforcement procedures, and gaining insights into the police's role in the justice system. The students were taken on a guided tour of the police station, visiting areas such as the reception, investigation rooms, lock-up cells, and records room. They were introduced to various tools and equipment used by the police, including communication devices, forensic kits, and surveillance systems. The process of filing a First Information Report (FIR) was explained in detail, highlighting its significance, the legal framework under the Criminal Procedure Code, and the police's obligations in registering complaints.

The students gained valuable insights, including a clearer understanding of the exposure to FIR filing, evidence handling, and suspect interrogation enhanced their grasp of criminal law. The session also shed light on the operational challenges faced by law enforcement, such as resource constraints and the importance of community cooperation. Furthermore, students were impressed by the use of technology in modern policing. Participants expressed their gratitude for the opportunity to visit the police station and interact with law enforcement professionals. They found the explanation of FIR filing and discussions on legal rights particularly helpful.
